

Millennials in Singapore most optimistic about post-COVID-19 outlook

According to the UOB Optimism Index, Singapore Millennials are the most confident generation when it comes to how soon life will go back to normal.

I will be financially better off a year from now

A vaccine will be developed in 18 months

Life will go back to the way it was in 18 months

International travel will resume in 18 months

How optimistic ASEAN countries are during the COVID-19 pandemic

Vietnam is the most optimistic and Indonesia is the least optimistic about a pandemic recovery. Singapore ranked third among five ASEAN markets on the regional UOB Optimism Index.

I am not worried about the COVID-19 crisis in my country

COVID-19 will be contained in my country in 18 months

Out-of-home restrictions will be lifted in 18 months

I will be financially better off a year from now

